GRADUATE COURSES FOR CURRENT AND PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS OF CHINESE

The Summer Institute for Teachers of Chinese (SITCh) at Central Connecticut State University is opening its doors to teachers and graduate students of Chinese with a 6-credit, graduate program. It provides participants with intensive Chinese language practice, as well as in-depth study of aspects of the culture, language and society of several Chinese speaking countries. It also includes a technology component to help participants develop their skills in emerging technologies. Participants should register for both courses at the same time. Space is limited to 15. Apply early!
